CANAL POINT

Ralph O'Neil is back on the lake and is working with John Fultz on the mail boat South Pole. He lived on East Beach for several years but for the past two years has been working in West Palm Beach and Miami. Ernest Bass came out with him Sunday but Ernest returned to West Palm Beach that night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lowe, Jr., of Orange City, formerly of Canal Point, announced the arrival of a son and one-half pound daughter, November 19. Captain Clay Johnson passed in Canal Point Monday and stayed over night and went on into West Palm Beach the next day. This was his first call in Canal Point for two months. He has been staying at his home in Kissimmee repairing his dwelling house and fixing up the lawn and re-inventing the steamboat Rosada. The captain doesn't think there is much likelihood of a "conservation" or food control district being organized in the Kissimmee river valley.

Harry R. Ritter of Pittsburgh, Pa., an early buyer of Everglades lands, was in Canal Point Monday on his way to Belle Glade to see C. E. Reidel and other old friends. He is a retired member of the Pittsburgh fire department. During the winter he is making his headquarters at Sebring.

Dr. F. G. Schwarz of West Palm Beach made several visits to Canal Point and Pahokee this week. He and associates control sections 9 and 12, which they took over from the Okeelanta Corporation, and the purpose of his visits here was to allot shares of the land to renters and share croppers. Charles Tedder, who has been dangerously ill for three weeks, is able to be out of bed.

A seed house reports that the demand for Bountiful bean seed is falling off. The call now is chiefly for Refiners.

R. C. Brackett is planting an acre of lettuce and has some peppers and will set some cabbage plants. He has ten acres of beans.

Charles Tedder has in beans and peppers on his "north place" but has not planted on his home place yet. L. L. Knight has in five acres of beans. Mrs. E. W. Simmons and Mrs. John Fultz went to West Palm Beach one day this week to take one of the Simmons children to a doctor, who removed a button from the child's nose.

Students Win Praise In Amateur Dramatics

The play, "Flag Goes the Flapper," a two-act musical comedy, presented by the students of Canal Point high school, was a great success. About $98 was taken in, in $90 of which was above expenses. This will be used to complete the basketball court already started, and buy books for the library.

The school as a whole, wishes to thank Miss Gladys Weathers for directing the play, and also W. E. Dowdy and C. L. Wilder for donating the use of the theater.

Billy Bonham, as father, Mr. Paxton, took his part splendidly. Ruth Friend, as his wife, Mrs. Paxton, according to critics, was a wonderful mother.

Although the flapper Susie Maxwell finally flapped, while she was flapping she flapped first class. She was a very successful one.

Witt Guise as Harry Gilmore, the rejected lover, in the end won the leading lady by the aid of her father. Evidently the family approved of Harry, and that's the best that can be said of any man.

Catherine Buchanan, as Betty Lee Cartice, made a very demure and modest rival of the flapper, finally winning her brother George (David Baker), who was a promising young lawyer.

Dorothy Burford as Kate Watson, a friend of Dorothy Paxton, was a typical modern flapper.

Those in the chorus were: Dorothy

Barford, Edna Jensen, Catherine Buchanan, Bessie Elliott, Vera Todd, Eva Erickson, Susie Maxwell and Betty Burford.

A few extra numbers were: "The Sleepy Head" by Harold Rosenberg, which was greatly enjoyed by the audience; "The Girl" received a generous applause for showing her ability to dance the Charleston.

A tableau was presented by some of the out-of-school young people representing girls of other countries and different American periods of dress. Those were: Elizabeth Lowe, an Oriental girl, Mary Ethel Thompson, a Swedish girl, Mrs. H. L. Speer, a Spanish maid, Miss Lulu Swicord, a Spanish senorita, Mrs. Ruth White as Miss America, Miss Thelma Thornton as the American girl of '83 and Miss Lois Oliver as the modern American girl. While these were on the stage, Miss Gladys Weathers played the piano and read verses pertaining to each one.

BRYAN INSPECTS ROADS

Tom M. Bryan of Fort Lauderdale, of the firm of Bryan & Holloway, road and drainage contractors, visited Canal Point and other points on the lake the early part of the week to inspect the work his firm is doing under contracts with the county commissioners in special road and bridge district No. 11. He said he was well satisfied with what was being done. The American Street drainage that is digging rock for Pahokee-Belle Glade road is making a record, he quotes an agent of the manufacturer as declaring.

Mr. Bryan is a member of the Fort Lauderdale city council and the county commissioners' board of county. Firms with which he has been connected and is connected have done more road building in the Everglades than any other firm.

D. H. Schumaker Dies
In Tractor Accident

D. S. Schumaker was crossing the bridge over Pelican river Friday morning about nine o'clock. Because of bad condition of the bridge he had to back up, and as he was backing the tractor, he completely lost control of it and backed off into the river. The tractor turned over backward, pinning Mr. Schumaker underneath it in about ten feet of water and killing him. The body was recovered about two hours later and taken to West Palm Beach to the Ferguson Undertaking Co. ## AN AWFUL YEAR

This has been an awful year. That filled the strongest minds with fear.

And caused us men to say, "My dear, We've done and out."

But Uncle Sam for us has planned. He sent the cash to plant our lands. His name we hold as truly grand.

For him we shout. This year will make us wiser grow. The more it costs the more we know; For thus does knowledge God bestow.

On mortal man. Within our bank some cash we'll bag. To keep it for a rainy day; That may not be so far away; It's best to plan.

As soon as we get on our feet. We're glad to say our bills we'll meet. Good Uncle Sam we will cheer; He's good as dead.

We daily plant the faithful bread. That we have found is never mean; It brings to us the good long green. That makes us glad.

—FRANK FRIEND.

No Engine Fumes in Buick closed cars

In the 1927 Buick, the new Vacuum Ventilator pulls engine fumes and gases from the crankcase and ejects them outside the car.

This vital new Buick improvement does away with noxious odors. It adds greater luxury and pleasure to enclosed car operation.

The Vacuum Ventilator serves another very important purpose. It prevents crankcase vapors from condensing and diluting the oil. Owners of 1927 Buicks are advised to drain their crankcase oil only 4 times during the year.

For luxury, and for economy, own a Buick.

defeat, I did not attempt to inject my views at the meeting.

"I do not know whether you are familiar with the situation that existed in many years ago, which was similar in many respects to that now confronting us. The revenue from the land was substantially the same as it now is. A change of board and a change of opinion seemed desirable then, as it does now. The Everglades drainage commissioners objected to the plan, and set up the same line and cry about the difficulty of selling Everglades bonds if any change were made in the administration of the project. The Spitzer-Rorick Company was quoted then just as it is quoted now. Is there any written or unwritten agreement with Spitzer-Rorick Company that situation that existed at that time on the part of the board? Have they had any exclusive arrangement for handling the bonds?"

"Actually, what happened 11 years ago was that some of us who desired to see the job done appointed a representative to interview a certain engineer, who had just been crowned with the laurels of achievement in completing one of the largest projects in the world. This engineer made it plain that he would not be interested in handling anything to do with the Everglades, under conditions that he existed in that if a new basic law were enacted putting the project on a proper business basis, providing that the interests of the enterprise on the ground and authorizing bonds in sufficient quantity to accomplish the work on the unit of acre plan, and that the person invested in the chief engineer to carry through the project unhindered, he would be willing to accept the plan with the understanding, either as chief or consulting engineer. An approval was prepared and presented to the board following which we consulted a number of bond houses and asked them to have their legal departments pass upon the proposed plan. We received letters from a number of these bond houses agreeing to bid on any quantity of bonds that we might want, recommended by this internationally known engineer.

"For some reason, then the Governor Catts, in spite of his personal position, aligned himself with the old policy and threatened to veto the bill if passed by the legislature. Not having sufficient cooperation to pass the bill over his veto, the bill failed of passage.

"The simple fact remained, however, that in spite of Spitzer-Rorick's statements and the governor's reversal, we proved the possibilities of marketing bonds in almost any quantity. The Everglades reclamation, provided only the necessary changes were made in the basic law.

"I am relating these facts, believing as I do that you are seriously interested in solving the Everglades riddle. The thing is so simple that I marvel at the tenacity with which the board hangs on to the old scheme of things, which has proven to be such a fizzle. It requires no 'seventh' or 'eighth' sense to see through the problem.

"At the recent Palm Beach meeting you stated that 'the board' was the Randolph plan. If this is literally true, then the Lord help us all, because at the present rate of progress, we would surely take at least 100 years—and probably 200—to finish reclamation, because the Randolph plan deals with the Everglades as a whole and makes no provision for unit or zone drainage. Furthermore, almost everything down here—even the very layman—knows that the Randolph plan contains many glaring errors, and that the run-off provided thereunder is wholly inadequate. The scientific theory of disposing of most of the rainfall by the process of evaporation. Furthermore, the 'shrinkage' of the muck soil has proven to be much greater than the allowance made by the Randolph commission. Still again, the ground level generally has been reduced considerably by ravaging fires. All these facts must be considered in preparing a new engineering report, and undoubtedly would provide for unit or zone drainage.

"By adopting the unit system of drainage it would be possible to reclaim a comparatively short time, to reclaim a number of fairly large size areas that would be an absolute demonstration of the correctness of the method.

"It is self-evident that the work can be administered by a local board of high grade men serving without salary, with the governor as ex-officio chairman, and with the state treasurer as treasurer of the district. A chief engineer of recognized national standing, who has the confidence of the big bond houses, and is responsible only to the reorganized board. Whatever selling value there may be having the signature of a local board on the bonds would be retained by having the governor and treasurer sign along with the other commissioners—and also by having the attorney general sign, attesting the validity of the bonds.

"As an Everglades land owner, I have no objection to property owners along the coast paying a tax to help defray the cost of draining the Glades, especially since a percentage of the Everglades taxes collected during the past 20 years has been expended in the Glades. On the other hand, as an evidence of good faith, the trustees of the internal improvement fund should declare in no uncertain terms that their policy henceforth shall be to dedicate the remaining state lands in the Everglades exclusively to Everglades drainage purposes, so that the entire proceeds of sale, except the 25 per cent required to be paid into the school fund as per the constitution, shall be used to re-claim the Everglades drainage bonds and thereby cut down the drainage taxes on the other hand, if the 'residual' fund from the sale of these lands in the Everglades were to be used for other purposes, whether for schools or otherwise, the drainage taxes would be extended merely to the adjacent coastal areas, should be extended to cover the entire state, so that all citizens of the state might pay their share of the cost of creating the asset in which they expect to participate. This is only fair and just.

"As a matter of fact, it is a fallacy to compare the amount of the Everglades bond issue with the assessed valuation of Everglades lands for state and county purposes. This is not done in any other drainage district in the world. When a drainage district is formed and it is ready to place its bonds upon the market, the amount of the bond issue is compared, not with the assessed value of the land, but with the value of the land after reclamation. In other words, if the land, when reclaimed, is worth $100 per acre and the cost of reclamation is $25 per acre, then the security is 4 to 1. In practically all cases, the assessed value of the land and county purposes of undrained swamp lands is almost nil—and should be absolutely nil until such lands are made fit for occupancy and cultivation. You can see, therefore, how absurd it would be to try and sell drainage bonds if they were proposed on a customary or to be sold with the assessed value for state and county purposes.

"By dedicating the state-owned lands in the Everglades to drainage purposes exclusively, and selling only enough bonds prior to reclamation to meet the drainage taxes thereon, holding the remainder for sale until after reclamation, it is reasonable to assume that the million acres, or thereabouts, still held by the trustees, would be a fund of $500,000, or more, which would pay a large part of the drainage cost. This is it should be, and is one of the practical answers to your question propounded at Palm Beach. With this simple plan, the project, you can readily understand how and why bonds in large quantity would be readily saleable, and since the lands were given by the federal government for that particular and specific purpose, it is obvious that the reason for which they were given, just as sacred as the school fund or any other fund, and it would be just as simple to try and divert any part of this drainage fund to any other fund or any other fund as it would be to divert the school fund to the drainage fund. Each should be kept for the purpose for which it was given.

A project which does not have back of it the basic element of honesty cannot be sooner permanently.

Therefore, instead of condoning and perpetrating this highly improper policy of your predecessors, you would do much more to advance the Everglades reclamation by urging the immediate reclamation of these lands irrevocably to the purpose for which they were specifically appropriated by the federal government. The honor of the state is involved, and the old policy of trying to divert these lands to the school fund or some other fund should be relegated to the limbo of forgotten things. Let us start with a fresh, clean sheet and you will see the Everglades stock going up immediately with confidence required and a great deal of money made available at once to supplement drainage taxes and support a bond issue of adequate amount to complete the reclamation.

"If I were asked to name the most important thing in connection with reclamation, I would certainly designate this matter of dedicating the state lands in the Everglades exclusively to drainage purposes, as the first step in the right direction.

"The next would be the immediate appointment of an engineering commission to outline a plan of reclamation together with an estimate of the cost thereof, based upon zone or unit drainage, so as to fix the cost of reclamation upon a mark to shoot at and above all things, to enable certain designated areas to be reclaimed right from the start during the life of your administration.

"Then would come the matter of changing the form of administering the project with local men in charge, have the project at heart, and with the governor as ex-officio chairman. This, of course, would mean the establishment of headquarters in or adjacent to the district, and the employment of a chief engineer of national reputation, whose office also would be located in or adjacent to the district and who would not be under the direction of the present regime.

"Finally, would come the legislation for further financing the project—a bill to be prepared and submitted for approval by bond houses in advance of the convening of the legislature, and tentative commitments to be procured by bond houses to bid on any quantity of bonds that might be recommended by the chief engineer under the new set-up.

"I think you will agree that the plan is simple and businesslike and that it will get results. A mere branch office in the district in charge of an assistant engineer—with the chief engineer residing in Tallahassee and the old

What the People of the Glades Want—And How and Why

STATEMENT ADOPTED UNANIMOUSLY AT CLEWISTON TUESDAY, OCTOBER 26, BY THE MOST REPRESENTATIVE MEETING EVER HELD OF RESIDENTS OF THE LAKE OKEECHOBEE SECTION.

We declare our confidence in the physical and economic practicability of the reclamation of the Everglades.

We regard the lowering of Lake Okeechobee as the most practical method of accomplishing drainage, and we believe that the distance of 17 and 15 feet or as low as the War Department will permit.

We recommend that the Legislature authorize the sale or hypothecation of mortgages taken by the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund for the purpose of drainage, and be permitted to use all cash that was derived from the sale of such lands for the purpose of drainage, and be permitted to use the portion of the state-owned value of the land, not the sale of drainage lands, as a loan to the drainage board.

We recommend the appointment by the commissioners of Everglades drainage district of a capable, nationally known engineer to make a complete survey of the phases of Everglades affairs and submit the report to the commissioners and by the commissioners reported to the Legislature. We advise that the report be made accessible for examination and publication as soon as it is prepared.

We recommend that Governor Martin call a special session of the Legislature twenty days before the regular session to consider Everglades affairs and that the Legislature change the form of control of the district.

The new form of control to be by a board of three or five members residents of the district.

The election of such commissioners to be by voters who are qualified to vote for state and county officers without regard to property owned.

The commissioners under the new form of control shall employ a competent engineer who shall have his residence and headquarters in the district.

We recommend that the Legislature enact a statute containing adequate financing provisions for the project, giving to the commissioners the power to issue bonds from time to time, as necessary, in an amount sufficient to execute the plan of reclamation.
